

MILLENNIUM PHOTO PROJECT GOES TO THE WHITE HOUSE!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TORONTO - Tuesday January 2nd, 2001 — Moving into the White House this month, along with Spot the Spaniel and the President and First Lady, will be none other than our very own book, Dawn of the 21st Century.

Thanks to the enlightened efforts of our Community Liaison Assistant, Connie Wragge, who went to the trouble of mailing a copy to George W. Bush and his wife Laura just before they left the Governors mansion in Texas, Dawn of the 21st Century will take its place along with the many other fine tomes in the White House library.

It's not known how long they spent pouring over the many photos from around the world that our photographers took just over a year ago or whether it will get priority placement in the White House washroom, but they did take the time to personally sign a thank you card and mail it back to Connie.

The card can be seen in all its glory at:
